

1. Please listen to Beethoven's 9th symphony from start to glorious end. It is about 64 minutes in length. Share with me your thoughts, experience, and how such a sensory auditory event can be experienced, interpreted, and possibly alter brain circuits. Did it have an affect on you and your brain?
2. Watch City of Gold, the documentary of Jonathon Gold, the late food critic from the LA Times. How did your brain experience this visual, and possibly gustatory exploration? How are social behaviors and food linked? Share your thoughts.

Target 2-3 pages for each. The quality of the essay is not dictated by its length. This is not meant to be a research paper, it's meant to be a paper based on thoughts and emotions felt during the presentations. This needs to be written on two separate documents. NO PLAGIARISM, NO CHAT GPT, GUARANTEE A.
